In her book, "Caregiver's Tale," author Sarah Davis shares her personal journey of caring for her husband, John, who was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease at the age of 59. Davis writes with honesty and humor about the challenges and rewards of caring for someone with dementia.

Davis's story is a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always hope. She shows us how to find joy in the journey and how to cherish the moments we have with our loved ones.

Excerpt from "Caregiver's Tale"

One day, John and I were out for a walk when he suddenly stopped and looked at me with a puzzled expression.

"Who are you?" he asked.

I took his hand and smiled.

"I'm your wife, Sarah."

He looked at me for a moment, and then his face broke into a wide smile.

"Oh, I remember now," he said. "You're the love of my life."

I chuckled.

"Yes, I am," I said. "And you're mine."

We continued walking, hand-in-hand, and I savored the moment. I knew that John's memory would continue to fade, but I was determined to make the most of our time together.
